HUGHES SENATORS ROW BOILS

Legislators Demand State Sen. Taylor Resign

Sixth District Lawmakers Assail Kerens Solon, Who Repeats Plan To Keep Post

AUSTIN, Aug. 7.—(AP)—Four members of the legislature today joined in statements demanding that State Senator James E. Taylor of Kerens resign in view of his recent acceptance of a full-time public relations job with the Texas Manufacturers Association.

They were Reps. George Nokes of Corsicana, Hiner McVey of Teague, James C. Spencer of Athens, Jerry T. Stockard of Frost. The house members sent the Kerens senator a telegram saying: "You Should Resign."

"If the report is true that you are to be director of public relations of the Texas Manufacturers Association, we as representatives of the same people whom you represent as senator from the Sixth district feel that you should resign as senator."

Taylor's acceptance of the post as public relations director for the TMA earlier this week was accompanied by a statement from the senator saying he would continue in public office.

Taylor, chairman of the powerful finance committee, represents the district in which Gov. Beauford H. Jester's home is located. He was considered Jester's floor leader in the senate.

Navarro County District. Co. Sixth district include Anderson, Freestone, Henderson, Kaufman. In a formal statement issued simultaneously with release of copies of the telegram, Nokes said: "No man should sit as a member of the Texas senate and serve as an executive of a lobbying organization at the same time."

Nokes said he was "profoundly shocked" at Taylor's action, adding: "Senator Taylor has been an able and influential legislator but he was elected to serve the people of Navarro county—not the TMA."

"During the next few years, Sen. Taylor will carry an extra responsibility to the people of his home district and the entire state as chairman of the joint legislative committee studying the Texas school system. It is important that this work of the committee be kept free of bias and above reproach."

"One of Senator Taylor's first jobs for the TMA, however, is to develop a public relations program, using the public schools to indoctrinate the school children of the state with the views of the TMA."

"This puts him in the position of influencing the public schools both as a public servant and as an employee of a private interest group. I believe the public schools must be kept free of partisan influence."

"I do not believe Senator Taylor should accept the public trust to guard the welfare of the public schools while accepting private employment to use the schools for the gain of a lobbying organization."

"No man can serve two masters. I do not believe that Senator Taylor can serve the public."

HOUSTON, Aug. 7.—(AP)—State Senator James E. Taylor of Kerens, without mentioning a demand made of him by four members of the Texas legislature that he resign because of his acceptance of a position with the Texas Manufacturers Association, said today he intends to continue as a member of the state senate.

"The objectives of the Texas Manufacturers Association is support of the development and preservation of a favorable atmosphere within which business may operate with a fair chance of success, its advocacy of the American individual enterprise system, sound governmental practices and a stabilized state tax structure thoroughly agree with my own ideas as an individual and as a public official."

"My association with TMA only gives me an opportunity to expand my efforts along these lines. In my opinion, the two activities are entirely consistent and for that reason I intend to continue as a member of the Texas senate."

No Comment on Demand. Taylor declined comment on details of the telegram which he said he received from the four state representatives and on a statement the group released to the press.

Taylor was elected to the senate last summer and his term will expire in January, 1951. He accepted the position of public relations director for TMA earlier this week.

GREEK WARNING REDS MAY DOMINATE LAND PUSHES U.N. ACTION

SECURITY COUNCIL IS AGAIN SEEKING ANSWER TO BALKANS PROBLEMS

LAKE SUCCESS, Aug. 7.—(AP)—Spurred on by Greece's warning that she would be swept into the Russian sphere unless the United Nations acted, security council delegates today explored new avenues in efforts to reach agreement on quelling Balkan disorders.

Greek Ambassador Vassili Dendramis said Russia's veto of the American plan for a watch-dog commission in the troubled Balkans clearly indicated Moscow's aim.

"The object is to give the appearance of a solution and to lull the world into a false sense of security until it is too late—until the newspapers have reported that it is all over and that one more country has been reduced to the delegates' last night in one of the bluntest attacks ever made on Russia in the council chamber."

"The moment will come when there will no longer be any frontiers between Greece and her northern neighbors," he concluded.

With an air of pessimism delegates set up a sub-committee of seven nations to give all proposals submitted and try to find a common ground. The first meeting was set today, with a deadline of next Monday for a report.

The council set another meeting for this afternoon to continue debate on the Balkans, consider Bulgaria's application for membership and turn again to Indonesia.

U.S. JOINS BRITAIN IN PROTESTING RED GRAB OF OIL PLANT

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—(AP)—The state department announced today that the United States had joined in a strong British protest against the seizure of the Lobau Oil Refinery near Vienna.

Ownership of the refinery has been claimed by the Americans and British as being vested jointly in the American Vacuum Oil and British Shell Oil Companies.

The Russians seized the property last Saturday while a four-power Austrian treaty commission was looking into questions of German assets and their susceptibility to seizure by the Soviets.

PALESTINE JEWS TO STOP WORK 3 HOURS PROTESTING ARRESTS

JERUSALEM, Aug. 7.—(AP)—Jewish leaders decreed a complete three-hour work stoppage this afternoon in protest against the arrest by British authorities of three Jewish mayors and some 40 other Jews for the avowed purpose of checking terrorism.

Violence continued meanwhile. British authorities announced that 12 oil tank cars were wrecked by a mine explosion at Ras El Ain, between Tel Aviv and Haifa. The blast ripped up 300 yards of railway track, but caused no casualties, the announcement said.

An extraordinary meeting of Yand Leumi (the Jewish national council) and other leaders decided upon the work stoppage in the Jewish areas of the Holy Land. They ordered all Jewish traffic, hotels and all Jewish shops, restaurants and places of amusement closed from 2 p. m. to 5 p. m.

The leaders at the same time called for the abolition of emergency regulations and the reestablishment of the supremacy of civil law throughout Palestine. The group repeated a pledge to fight Jewish underground terrorist groups.

CHURCHILL'S CHARGES BRING DENIAL—Charges made by former Prime Minister Churchill, speaking at Woodstock, England, Aug. 4, that the labor government was "frittering away" a great part of the U. FUNDS SHORTAGE MAY CUT DOWN EUROPEAN BUYING OF U. S. FOOD; STEEL EXPORT CONTROLS SLATED

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—(AP)—The agriculture department said today lack of funds may cut down foreign buying of American goods by the end of the year.

"This buying is said to be one of the prime factors keeping food prices high."

The department said, however, that because the food situation abroad remains critical exports of farm products may continue at the high 1946 rate providing foreign countries can augment their dollar supplies by increasing their shipments to this country.

American gifts and loans abroad already estimated for farm products will finance $500,000,000 less of agricultural exports in 1947 than in 1946, the agency said.

By SIGRID ARNE. WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—(AP)—The United States will revert October 1 to its strict wartime controls over steel exports.

These reversion government approval of both the country to receive the metal and the use there to which it is to be put.

Since shortly after the war American exporters have been permitted to ship their orders and ask permission to ship a specific tonnage.

Foreign Spending Reason. M. E. Sweeney, chief of the commerce department's export control division over general products, told a reporter today the return to the wartime allocation method is necessary because of the large sums the United States is spending on foreign reconstruction.

First consideration in issuing export licenses, Sweeney said, will be given to requests for shipments aimed at rebuilding basic industries most likely to move the purchasing nations back into financial good health.

Other Shipments Better. In explaining the decision to clamp tighter controls over steel products, Sweeney said: "For the basic industries of Europe we would rather ship them, for instance, than making plants than tin-plate with which to can their perishable foods. On the other hand, we'd rather send them tin-plate than keep on sending food. And we'd also rather send them tractors to produce their own food. Our whole drive is to get them back to producing for themselves."

CHICAGO, Aug. 7.—(AP)—William P. Odom, 27 year old former British ferry command officer, took off at 11:35 p. m. (CST) today in his converted twin-engine army bomber in an effort to halve the late Wiley Post's 1933 solo globe circling time record.

BRITON BLAMES U.S. INCREASED EXPORTS FOR DOLLAR CRISIS

LABOR GOVERNMENT IS UNDER FIRE FOR NEW PLANNED RESTRICTIONS

By ED CIREACH. LONDON, Aug. 7.—(AP)—A British official blamed rising American prices and "the rapidly increasing surplus of U. S. exports over U. S. imports" today for the sudden worsening of Britain's economic crisis.

Britain's plight is linked to a "worldwide dollar famine" caused by America's selling to foreign countries more than twice as much as she buys. The chancellor of the exchequer, Hugh Dalton, told the house of commons.

Dalton was replying to criticisms by Conservatives and left-wing Socialists that the Labor government "squandered" the $3,750,000,000 U. S. loan and that Prime Minister Attlee's new work-more-and-less program promised "no little, too late."

The leftwingers were discontent because the announced reduction in Britain's armed forces under the new plan would leave more than 1,000,000 men under arms by next spring—far more than the reduced number they have been advocating ever since they attacked Foreign Secretary Bevin's foreign policy last November.

"Too Little, Too Late" The conservative opposition blasted the Attlee program on the ground that it was "too little, too late. They made the specific points in their criticism:

1. They said the government was dealing with the crisis too hurriedly, at too late a time.

2. They said the plan was not detailed enough to move the government to give the country a full statement of the peril it faces.

Several London newspapers predicted the conservatives would

EUROPE FACES TIGHT SQUEEZE BEFORE NEW U.S. AID AVAILABLE

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER. WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—(AP)—Evidence including Prime Minister Attlee's report to commons, indicates today that Western Europe faces a tight squeeze between now and the time the Marshall plan can become effective.

It is equally evident that no new American financial aid will be forthcoming—barring economic disaster abroad—until congress can pass early next year on the Marshall recovery program.

Attlee's report yesterday evidently was well received here because of the way in which it emphasized Britain's intention to survive the next few months on her own dwindling resources with a minimum of help from the United States.

Mr. Attlee's explanations of the collapse, and the drastic remedies which he proposes, show clearly that the country's first about Socialist experiment has in the short period of two years arrived at the point of considerable governmental reorganization of the individual.

Plane Magnate Challenges Many Statements In Probe, Draws Outburst From Head

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—(AP)—Howard Hughes today challenged Senator Brewster (R-Me) to repeat under oath a press statement by Brewster that an airline hostess was afraid to travel alone with Hughes in his private airplane.

The plane manufacturer issued the challenge after inviting the senate war investigating committee to stack against each other the records of Brewster and Hughes for "telling the truth."

Hughes referred to the airline hostess incident as a "smear campaign."

And he said the senators ought to look at their reputations when deciding whether he or Brewster is telling the truth in their controversy over an airlines proposition.

With both under oath, Hughes has charged and Brewster has denied that the senator once offered to call off the senate investigation of Hughes $400,000 wartime plane contracts if he (Hughes) would agree to merge his Trans World Airlines with Pan American.

Hughes said that after he had revealed that his private airplane carried Brewster and Senator Bricker (R-Ohio) from Washington to Columbus, Ohio, last February, that Brewster told newsmen in Washington that a TWA hostess on this ride had confided that "she absolutely refused to be alone with me."

Affidavit Denies Charge. Then he offered a sworn affidavit by Harriett Applewick, a TWA hostess, which termed the Brewster charges "absolutely untrue."

The hearing was punctuated by frequent flare-ups of temper. Once, Ferguson accused Hughes of "trying to discredit" the committee.

The outburst from the chairman of the senate war investigating subcommittee came after Hughes during a turbulent session in the witness chair.

Accused the committee of being "unfair" by firing cross questions at him but not at Senator Brewster (R-Me) who Hughes charged once attempted to "blackmail" him into agreeing to an airlines merger.

Called a "pack of lies" Brewster's denial that there is any truth in the "blackmail" story.

"Discrediting Committee." Finally, Ferguson flared up. "We appreciate what you are trying to do here indicates clearly you are trying to discredit the committee," Ferguson said in measured phrases. "That means the integrity of the United States Senate is at stake."

He told the multi-millionaire plane manufacturer that he cannot control the committee "by your great wealth."

Sensor Pepper (D-Fla) stepped in at that point.

He said it was obvious that Ferguson was reading from a prepared, typewritten manuscript, although he purportedly was criticizing Hughes for something which occurred only a minute or two before.

"Prepared Statement." "Obviously it was prepared in advance," Pepper said, "and I am authorized to say for the minority members of the committee that neither they nor I have seen the statement prior to its delivery."

Ferguson acknowledged his statement was prepared. Just minutes before, Brewster had interrupted when Hughes was reading a statement. The Maine senator in teeth-clenched tones demanded to know whether Hughes had prepared the statement himself, or if it was prepared by Carl Eysler, public relations counsel.

In the statement, Hughes had offered to put his reputation for truthfulness up against Brewster's and asserted the Maine Senator "has the reputation of being one of the greatest trick shot artists in Washington."

Hughes said it was his own statement.

When Pepper concluded, Ferguson said on to Hughes: "Trying To Control" Panel. "It is obvious you are trying to control the committee. If you believe that because of your great wealth and because you have access to certain publicity channels, you can do that, I want to advise you you are mistaken. And that is final."

He said "it is evident that you are trying to discredit not just one member, but the entire committee." "This committee intends to carry out its functions," he said.

Hughes contended in his statement that Brewster "made any statement which is obviously untrue" when denying Hughes story of the proposition.

One "untruth" Hughes declared, was Brewster's disclaimer of any connection, direct or indirect, with Pan American Airways.

"Most people in the aviation industry know that is untrue," Hughes declared.

Previously, in testimony to the senate war investigating committee, Hughes had called "a pack of lies" Brewster's disclaimer of Hughes' story of the "proposition."

Brewster is chairman of the war investigating committee.

Sensor Ferguson (R-Mich), head of the subcommittee conducting the inquiry, broke in to ask Hughes for the source of his information about Brewster's "trick shot" capabilities.

Hughes replied that he had heard Jack Frye, former head of TWA make the statement that Brewster was a trick shot artist.

Hughes volunteered these comments as to his reputation and that of Brewster at the start of an afternoon session.

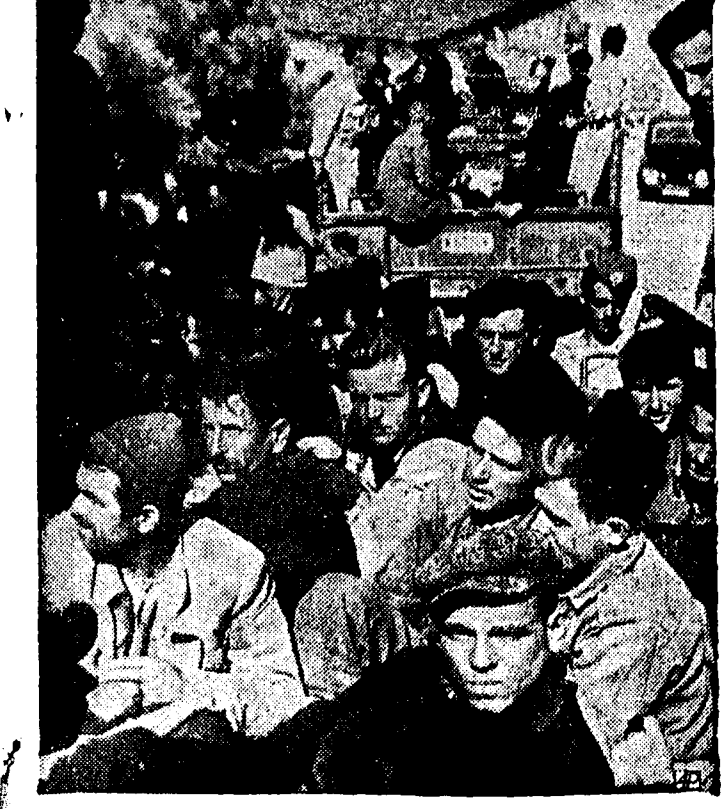

Many Questions Supplied. During the forenoon, he had directed to Brewster a series of written questions, most of them obviously aimed at developing what relations there have been between Brewster and Pan American.

The Maine senator acknowledged friendship with some Pan American officials and said he had visited a residence maintained here by Pan American.

Ferguson said Hughes "continuously" had been trying to divert the committee from the principal issue—investigation of the Hughes war plane contracts.

"We are not going off on any side issue which was started by

Discuss Artificial Breeding Association

The operation of an artificial breeding association was discussed by dairymen and others interested in the further development of the dairy business, at a meeting in the county courtroom Monday night. A film on the subject was shown and an explanation of the technical work involved was made by Dr. M. Smotherman of Corsicana, and Shannon Carpenter, associate dairymen of the A. and M. College.

According to County Agent H. C. Robinson, chief advantages claimed for this type of program were the wider use of good bulls and the services of outstanding bulls made available to dairymen and individuals milking a small number of cows. This, it was pointed out, results in a larger number of high producing heifers available for replacement purposes in a comparatively short time. Among other advantages was the elimination of the necessity and danger of keeping bulls on individual farms. It was declared that this type program was

FORECAST MADE ON PRICES, SUPPLIES FOR MAJOR PRODUCTS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—(AP)—Here is the way the agriculture department expects prices and supplies of major farm and food products to stack up during the next few months:

Meat and livestock—A seasonal decline expected in fall, but the amount will be "only moderate" if consumer incomes stay high.

Fuel grains—The weather remains important to price prospects for corn and other feed grains. If it's favorable through the remainder of the growing season, prices probably will decline this fall and winter, but may average higher than last year.

Dairy products—Further increases expected during fall and winter.

Eggs—A less-than-usual increase expected this fall.

Wheat—Prospects for a small corn crop are tending to strengthen prices despite record wheat crop.

Fats and oils—Larger production forecast.

Fruits and vegetables—Growers' fruit prices this summer expected to continue below last year. Fruit production will be larger.

no more expensive than where bulls are kept with the herds. A committee of Charles Williamson, Horace Hays, G. H. Blankinship, David Blood and James W. Bonner was appointed to make a survey of dairy cow owners to find out if there is sufficient interest in such program to justify an attempt to organize a Navarro county association.

A NATION CRASHES WHEN ITS MORAL FIBRE WEAKENS*

Light Upon World's Present Problems -- Empires Now Collapsing From Causes Within Character of Individuals -- Only Religion Can Save a Nation for Its Highest Destiny

By WILLIAM T. ELLIS and EARL L. DOUGLASS

Listening ears hear strange sounds today. There is the incessant blare of moronic music and humor from the radio, and the hysterical laughter and applause from empty-headed listeners. It seems as if multitudes have gone mad after entertainment and senseless stimulation, like the degenerate Israelites the prophets of Ashraah and by the temples and idols of Babel.

Another ominous sound, sweeping around the earth, is the almost incredible crash of empires. The British Empire, the Dutch Empire, the French Empire, the German Empire, the Japanese Empire, the Italian Empire, are falling to pieces, even while we look. Has there ever before been such an international collapse of great powers as is today taking place before our incredulous eyes?

Yet a third sound, clear only to reverent ears, is the universal prayer that is rising from hearts which believe that an eternal, omnipotent and man-loving Father-God is working out His purposes in the lives of men. This is the voice of faith, which we are confident will ultimately prevail; that God's Kingdom and Will may come on earth.

A Warning For the World Today, plus long-ago yesterday, is the warning that the fall of ancient Israel is befalling decadent modern nations before our eyes; and for the same causes. All over the world warning voices are being lifted, crying from the people seem indifferent to the supreme crisis of history. Prophets there are, but none has spoken clearly and loudly enough to arouse the nations.

Our world has not yet grasped the tremendous truth that the morale of a nation is dependent upon the morals of its individual citizens. We cannot have a good state made up of bad people. The springs of national well-being are deep in the hearts of the people. "Keep thy heart with all diligence, for out of it are the issues of life." We are building strong walls for the State when we establish purity of heart and life in boys and girls, men and women. "Happy is the nation whose God is the Lord." More potent than the United Nations and imparting power to this effort to achieve one world of brotherhood and peace, are the devout purposes of the myriads who pursue personal purity of life, and work toward the Scriptural standards of conduct.

Righteousness, personal and civil, roots in religion. Only the fool gaily says, "It does not matter what a man believes." All history and philosophy contradict this teaching. "As a man thinketh in his heart, so is he." The man who is inspired in all his ways by the love and the law of the Lord will be a good citizen, a good neighbor and an embodiment of public and private virtues. The poor will never have occasion to teach. This is why the shortest route to a better national life runs through the Bible, the Church, and the personal prayer life. And also that is why religion is our best refuge and resource in times of national peril such as these.

By-products of Character "Moral delinquency" is a phrase that nowadays is being widely and loudly spoken. It stands for a grim recession in the personal life of myriads, and has become a major problem in the world's outlook. Not often is "moral delinquency" associated in the public mind with national welfare. Yet actually the two things are as cause and effect. Clean politics, public safety and high social ideals all derive from the life-standards of individuals. The most patriotic service any citizen can render to his nation is to live a godly life and do those things which are written in the clear commands of God.

If our generation were really as wise as it has every reason to be we should busy ourselves with the huge task of training our youth in the standards and ideals of Christ. We court national danger by the fact that there are a score of million of young people in the United States and Canada who are receiving no religious training whatsoever. This fundamentally

TWO NEW FACULTY MEMBERS ANNOUNCED AT JUNIOR COLLEGE

Navarro Junior College officials have announced the addition of two new faculty members for the fall term who will handle courses not heretofore offered at the college. They are C. T. Nance is a graduate of Texas A. and M. college with a major in agriculture, and has served four years in the army, during which he was occupied in the agricultural field.

RELIGIONS IN PALESTINE

Hal O'Flaherty, who is in Palestine observing the course of action of the UN commission working there, says that the Palestine problem bids fair to become a religious controversy. The social and political aspects have been under consideration for some time, but he believes that in the final analysis:

"The problem ceases to be a political division of a small piece of desert on the eastern shore of the Mediterranean, and assumes the character of a religious conflict with the entire Mohammedan world pitted against the remnants of the longest-suffering and most tortured race on earth."

Partition of Palestine is likely to be the solution offered by the UN commission, and, while this would be fairly satisfactory to the Jews, the Arabs are bitter against it. They claim absolute sovereignty by right of ancient inheritance, and have on their side 285,000,000 Mohammedans. Their religious fanaticism, says this correspondent, would be likely to lead them into a so-called Holy War.

Twenty-seven commissions have labored in the area, and no conclusion has so far been reached. Americans certainly hope that some form of compromise may prevent that bloodiest of conflicts, a religious war. The Moslems are roughly five-eighths of the population and the Jews only a quarter.

The others are Christians besides a few thousands of scattered religions. In any serious jihad of Moslems against British, Christians would probably join the British; some Jews would join one side or the other moved by ties of economics or affectionate association. The rest of the Jews would be in the middle, the chances are that most of them would soon be waking up suddenly in another world and wondering how they got there. It's a tangled web and compromise leading to settled peace is certainly indicated.

MOST POPULAR SPORTS

Football gets the most publicity of school and college sports, but in Pennsylvania basketball is the most popular. This is the opinion of Dr. Francis B. Haas, state superintendent of public instruction.

Football is second, he reports; baseball third and track fourth, with wrestling and gymnastics following. Wrestling has come up fast in the last few years, and may go even higher.

One reason why football has slipped appears to be the cost of its equipment. Another may be the shortness of the season.

RUHR DISPUTE

It was hoped that plans for the reconstruction of Germany could go forward harmoniously after Russian co-operation had been definitely ruled out.

But France's insistence on heavy reparations is causing a division in the ranks with the U. S. and Britain on the other side. No doubt the Russian leaders are pleased over this development, but with patience the obstacle can be overcome. Paul Ghali, writing from Paris, says, "There is a level whereby Germany can play its role in Europe's reconstruction without threatening the security of her neighbors. The big headache of the Paris conferees from now on will be to figure this level."

The new American policy in Germany provides for a healthy economy for Germany, leading to her independence of outside aid. Reparations take second

THE FORTUNE LEAVER

If the dead hear living voices, and if things perhaps they do, He must have heard them wondering how so large his fortune grew.

He must have heard them saying: "With so much to us denied, It's amazing we discover all this money put aside."

The dead man may have shuddered as he heard a loved one say: "These are things we used to ask for, he refused from day to day. He said he couldn't buy them, and he bade us be content. That he could have bought, but wouldn't, now we find is what he meant."

It could be that he regretted, as he heard them counting there, Every joy he could have granted, but the money wouldn't spare. And perhaps the money, wondered in the silence of the grave, How he'd ever got the notion every dollar he must save.

place in U. S. plans, but seem vital and important to France. It is up to the U. S. and Great Britain to convince France of the need to merge her own national requirements with the good of Europe as a whole. While France may wish that the production of the Ruhr valley could be channelled in great part into the French economy, and thus completely revivify that nation, she must be willing to share with the rest, for the good of the whole of Europe.

It's a matter of the long look forward. Peace and reconstruction of Europe as a whole mean peace and reconstruction for every part. If one part were to go much faster than another, the situation would be out of balance again, with ensuing trouble. That ensuing trouble is what all nations are trying to avoid.

HOW TO LOOK PRETTY

From Hollywood comes the story that photographers get an amiable smile from their victims by asking them, before snapping, to murmur "Cheese." This does the trick. If you don't believe it, try it before your mirror. How awful if the sitter murmured instead, "High taxes."

The Russians may be all right in their way, but they never seem to learn anything about co-operation.

SEN. JAMES E. TAYLOR

Sen. Taylor Will Be Manufacturers' Publicity Director

AUSTIN, Tex., Aug. 5.—(AP)—State Senator James E. Taylor has been named Director of Public Relations for the Texas Manufacturers Association. Taylor, chairman of the powerful senate finance committee during the 50th Legislature and administration leader there for Gov. Beauford H. Jester during the session, said he would continue in the senate and to live at Kerens. Chester L. May of Dallas is president.

Taylor was considered the spearhead of anti-new tax and economy in government forces during the past session.

He served two terms in the house from Navarro county prior to world war II. He was elected to the senate while serving with the 36th Division overseas and was re-elected without opposition for a second term in 1946.

LUTHERAN CHURCH BUYS PROPERTY TO ERECT CHURCH HERE

The purchase of property by the Lutheran church was announced today by the local pastor, Wm. K. Schuster. The property consists of a large lot and a house located on the northwest corner of Fifth avenue and Twenty-eighth street.

The house, which has been the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Elliot, will be remodeled for use as a chapel for worship. Later, when building conditions are more suitable, a church will be built on the corner, Rev. Schuster said.

The Lutheran church will continue to hold services in the YMCA until the remodeling has been completed.

STATE GOVERNMENT DISCUSSED BY NOKES AT OPTIMIST CLUB

State Representative George O. Nokes was the guest speaker at the weekly meeting of the Optimist Club Monday night, August 4, at the Navarro Hotel. Nokes discussed "Trends in State Government" and answered questions in an informal discussion group following his speech.

Nokes said that the people are tired of having so many local functions performed by the federal government, and are weary of the waste that is attendant when the money to perform public works must travel from the state to the federal government and back again.

New Trend

"I believe that we are now on the threshold of a trend back to the emphasis of a state government," Nokes said.

As evidence of his belief, the representative cited the rise in the state allocation of funds for public health, the move to raise the pay of state legislators, and the uniform state code agreement between states.

As further evidence of the trend to state government, Nokes said he believed that Texas would move more and more into the building of farm-to-market roads, and would pass the bill to remit ad valorem taxes to the counties next year. He cited the tidelands case as another evidence of growing emphasis on state government.

Home Government

"The state government is trying to get the counties to take responsibility in their own affairs, and if the responsibility is passed down, then someone must take it," Nokes said.

"The closer government gets to home, the better all will be satisfied. Embury Ferguson and Jimmy T. I were on the program committee for the meeting. Harry Clowe and Basil Coe were named to the committee for the August 11 meeting."

Civil Service Exams

The Civil Service Commission announces examinations for the positions of Accounting and Auditing Assistant, for Clerk CAF-5 and CAF-6, and for filling Patent Examiner's positions in Washington, D. C., and nearby Virginia and Maryland, as well as for Veterans' plan positions in Washington, L. C., and throughout the United States.

Further information and application forms may be secured from the Commission's local secretary, W. C. Galloway, located at the Corsicana postoffice.

JACK DALE BUNCH

Play Written By Bunch, Actor And Student, On Stage

Jack Dale Bunch, Corsicana student at the Pasadena Playhouse in California, last winter authored a one-act play, "Peanuts," as an assignment in dramatics.

The play, whose title represents a principal character in the cast, was presented July 24-26 by the Summer Session Players of the Pasadena Playhouse Association in the Patio theatre, according to word received by the young actor's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bunch.

Copy Sent Here.

A copy of the play was in the hands of Bunch's parents and his former teacher, Mrs. M. S. Cook, in February, and its maturity of development and possibilities as a stage piece were remarked by those of his friends who read the play.

The play was presented on a double bill with "Why I Am a Bachelor," by Conrad Seller. The play "Peanuts" will be presented by the dramatics class of Pasadena Junior College later in the summer.

Bunch, who is a talented dancer as well as actor, appeared in the dancing troupe of the Starlight Orpheas. This summer he is studying modern ballet, tap and Spanish forms of terpsichore at the Semenov Studios in Santa Monica. He will be presented in a Semenov dance production about August 15. Bunch, who is known to his local friends as Corky, will be 19 years of age in October. While he is continuing his studies on the West Coast, the young student is employed at the Miramar hotel at Santa Monica.

DIABETES CONTINUES TAKING HEAVY TOLL, DESPITE SOME AIDS

AUSTIN, Aug. 7.—(AP).—Despite the fact that modern medicine can do much to help the diabetic live out a normal life span, nevertheless diabetes took a toll of several hundred lives in Texas during the past year, according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, state health officer.

"While deaths from the communicable diseases such as typhoid, fever, malaria, diphtheria and smallpox are annually decreasing in this country, diabetes is still taking a tragic number of human lives each year, especially in the middle aged group," Dr. Cox said.

"Until recent years diabetes was not noted as a major health problem, but it becomes accepted as such in direct ratio to the development of modern laboratory procedures, which made the disease more easily diagnosed."

Dr. Cox said that diabetes is generally recognized as a class disease. It seems to attack wealthy class of indoor men and women much more frequently than it does the outdoor person whose work is more vigorous and calls for more exercise.

Whatever the actual cause of the disease may be, vocational and economic conditions apparently are factors. Since it seems a fact that those whose occupations call for manual labor and simple living are not frequently affected.

Dr. Cox stated that simple, wholesome diets, sufficient exercise and sleep are factors in the prevention of diabetes, and an annual physical examination, especially in middle aged persons, is important so that if the disease is present, competent treatment can be instituted while the disease is in its early stage.

CORPORATION COURT
Corsicana motorists began learning the hard way Thursday that there is an ordinance banning left turns on Beaton St. at the intersections of Fourth, Fifth, Collin and Sixth Avenues.

After a week of whistle tooting and warnings to drivers the police department resorted to penalties and pads Wednesday. One night came the traffic man had issued 24 tickets to motorists who forgot. Of this number nine came to police headquarters and left the required $1. The other 15 were summoned to appear before City Recorder Chris L. Knox during the day. He was expected to levy the $1 fine on all of them.

The left turn ban came back to Beaton St. several weeks ago when the city commission passed an ordinance prohibiting the peculiar maneuver. It was not immediately enforced because signs dangling from traffic lights had not been changed to conform. Other traffic cases occupied the time of the patrolmen for the most part Wednesday, although a man and wife were taken from a local hotel room and jailed. The woman faced vagrancy charges, the man one of drunkenness.

Saroyan Believes Movies Soon Can Use His Stories

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 7.—(AP)—If the movies continue to improve, the writer will be able to deal with Saroyan stories. This comes direct from William Saroyan, the fluent Fresno philosopher.

The writer launched into Hollywood to see what the Cagneys are doing to his prize play, "The Time of Your Life." He was pleased with the progress, much more so than with what MGM did to his "The Human Comedy."

"They changed it around so much that the complete tone of the book was lost," he complained. "It turned out to be mushy and 'Hollywood'."

But the movies are coming along, he admitted. He said the industry is maturing and is varying to the extent that it will soon be able to make adequate films of his writings.

"They are too busy now making surrealist films about the sensational.

"Actually, the public demands little of the movies, except a place to rest. I am resigned to seeing the worst films, and I go often. I love the darn things," his advice to Hollywood is to make more comedies.

Erroll Flynn finished "Silver River" and flew with Nora to Jamaica where he'll vacation until he starts "Don Juan" in September. Jack Carson has a novel gimmick for his new radio show. Each week he'll play a different "man at home," dentist, plumber, etc., etc.

Frank Sinatra was named West Coast director for the Damon Runyon cancer fund. What's the matter with marriage at 20th? Fox? Ty Power, Gene Tierney, June Haver, Mark Stevens and Cornel Wilde have suffered break-ups within a year.

TEXAS TODAY

By JACK BUTLEDGE
Associated Press Staff

Three men entered a border cantina. They were to coin an expression, tight.

In fact, they were so intoxicated that one promptly felloped to the floor.

"What'll you have?" the bartender asked.

"Two of them ordered."

"How about the fellow on the floor?" asked the barkeep.

"Nothing for him," his pals said, "he's driving."

In Pampa, they have a new slogan: "If you're hunting for the bus station, don't drink."

One young man seeking the station walked by mistake into the police department, was promptly jailed on charges of drunkenness, spent the night in a cell.

From East Texas comes this description of what the writer called an excellent pick-me-up. It sounds like a knock-me-down: "My favorite is good old East Texas home-brewed whole corn. Lye water, used to remove the hard outer husk of the grain, usually isn't all washed away and adds extra tang to the liquor."

"The corn mash is allowed to ferment in huck barrels hidden away in brush piles. Cooking is done in stills down by the spring in the holler, with one eye on the put and the other on the trail down which the law might come any minute."

"It's drunk straight, without a chaser. Each swallow is followed by a wry face, violent shaking of the head to restore semi-consciousness, and a cough to provide a measure of air conditioning to a red-hot tongue and throat."

Another gentleman from East Texas recommends the Chapultepec cocktail.

"It has all the vigor of the old Aztec warrior. It's half brandy, half tequila, a dash of bitters and a maraschino cherry."

"It is not recommended for the amateur drinker. It should be served chilled. The drinker shortly assumes the same state."

And along the Red river there's choc beer, a sort of home brew imported from the old Choctaw Nation before Oklahoma became a state.

Three men entered—but wait, we're repeating. It must be something we ate.

Helpful ideas for busy canning days

by Carol Drake

Can, jam, preserve, conserve—that accounts for the spicy fragrances now wafting from kitchen windows. These tips for canning with little to-do are for the busy homemaker with much to do.

...A PRACTICAL FACT: Ten cent store work gloves protect hands when lifting jars from hot water bath or pressure canner, tightening jar lids or removing petcock.

...SAVE TIME: MAKE CHILI SAUCE AND TOMATO JUICE AT THE SAME TIME. Wash and quarter about 10 pounds tomatoes. Simmer until soft, about 30 minutes, with chopped celery, onion, green pepper, carrots and whole spices. (The spices loosely in cheesecloth bag, easy to remove.) Drain off juice and fill hot jars. Process in boiling water bath 35 minutes. Put tomatoes, celery, onion, green pepper and carrots through colander or food mill; add vinegar. Cook until pulp is thick enough to round up on spoon. Fill hot jars; process in boiling water bath 1 hour.

...KEEP CRYSTALS OUT OF GRAPE JELLY. Prepare juice and let stand overnight in refrigerator. Crystals form and settle to the bottom. Dip off juice, proceed with jelly making.

...BE PARTICULAR IF YOU WANT PRAISEWORTHY PICKLES! Use fresh spices—1 ounce whole mixed spices is enough for 4 gallons of pickles; soft water (soften hard water by boiling, letting stand 24 hours to settle), and good recipes. Write to Carol Drake for "PRIZE PICKLE RECIPES." Box 2110, Dept. PR, San Francisco 26, Calif.

you many weeks ago in the press," he told Hughes.
The Michigan senator then said that what he called Hughes' "propaganda" was designed "to discredit the committee."

Hughes said that not he, but Brewster, had suggested yesterday that the committee turn to the so-called side issue.

This "side issue" is the Hughes charge of Brewster's "propaganda" and the senator's denial.
Hughes commented at one point that "you (Ferguson) went to considerable length to tell of equal treatment" for both men before the committee.

Crowd Favors Hughes.
A chorus of groans swelled from the crowd as Ferguson insisted that was the kind of treatment Hughes is getting.

Said Hughes: "You can resolve this argument here and now by retracting your statement that I am going to get equal treatment, and I'll take any kind of treatment I get."

When Brewster had replied to Hughes' series of written questions, the plane manufacturer shouted that the committee was being "unfair" by its procedure.

Hughes told Ferguson:
Answers "Evasive."
The answers he gave were evasive and in many cases it was not possible to get a direct answer.

"Not having his replies challenged in any way by the chairman is unsatisfactory, so I shall not submit any further questions in this way."

The lanky multi-millionaire told the senators "my reputation has been ruined."

Ferguson asked Hughes whether anyone else was present at a luncheon in Brewster's Mayflower hotel apartment last February at which Hughes charges the senator offered "in so many words" to call off the inquiry into Hughes' plane contracts.

"You don't think Senator Brewster would have made that proposition in front of anyone else, do you?" Hughes asked in reply.

Hearing In Uproar.
The hearing was thrown into an uproar soon after the committee convened.

As the hearing recessed for lunch, Ferguson told newsmen the committee is going to stop being courteous.

"The courtesies end now," he declared. "We are going ahead with this hearing and nothing is going to stop us."

"I have had experience with this kind of fellow, and the courtesies end now."

At one point, Hughes told the committee that Juan Trippe, president of Pan American Airways, discussed with him the airline merger and the investigation "as though Brewster worked for him."

Not "Under Fire."
Complaining of "unfairness," Hughes said Brewster, while on the witness chair, had been allowed to "proceed in leisurely manner" and had not been subjected to a fire of cross questions.

Chairman Ferguson snapped back that the committee would run its own affairs, that any member would ask any question he considered "permanent."

Williams wanted to know why Hughes had not gone to proper authorities, what would it do to go to the authorities? Hughes demanded.

"Nothing To Lose."
"Where do you think it will get you now?" Williams asked.

Hughes replied, "I have nothing to lose. My reputation has been ruined."

Brewster went back to the chair to answer a series of written questions. Hughes gave to Chairman Ferguson (R-Mich.) of the senate sub-committee.

In his replies, Brewster:
1. Acknowledged that he had eaten at least "three breakfasts in the last few months" at a special residence maintained here by Pan-American Airways as a guest center for officials and employees.

But the Maine senator insisted this could not be termed the "Pan-American Palace" and instead saved photographs of what Brewster called "TWA's Palatial" home and swimming pool.

2. Agreed that Sam Pryor, a vice president of Pan-American and former Connecticut Republican national committeeman, is a close friend of his.

3. Said it was true that he had spent two Thanksgiving vacations of about one week each at a home Pryor has at Lake Sound, Fla. Brewster said Pryor was not there and he (Brewster) had purchased his own food and borne all expense.

Free Ride Acknowledged.
4. Acknowledged that he once accepted free transportation in Pan America's special private airliner from Washington to Raleigh, N. C.

He said he went to Raleigh to confer with the late Senator Bailey (D-NC) at Bailey's request about aviation legislation. Brewster also repeatedly hit at Hughes' story of a "proposition" for a merger.

"The suggestion that I held a whip over Mr. Hughes is ridiculous," he declared.
The hearing was thrown into an uproar soon after the committee convened.

Chairman Ferguson (R-Mich.) presiding at the hearing under control of a sub-committee, demanded first of Hughes and then of Brewster if they had any written questions ready for each other.

"Clarify My Position."
Hughes, having some difficulty understanding Ferguson, asked his

ELLIOTT ROOSEVELT TESTIFIES—Elliott Roosevelt, son of the late president, speaks into a cluster of microphones as he testifies before the senate war investigating subcommittee in Washington regarding his connection with the letting of wartime airplane contracts to Howard Hughes. (AP Wirephoto).

attorney Tom Slack, what had been said.

Then Hughes asked to make a statement to "clarify my position."

Ferguson cut in, saying that under rules of the subcommittee questions must be submitted in advance and Hughes flushed. He reached into an envelope and pulled out several long sheets of writing.

Testimony "Pack of Lies."
"I want to make it very clear these are not all," Hughes began. "Furthermore the testimony yesterday of Senator Brewster is a pack of lies and I can tear it apart if I can be allowed to cross-examine him."

In separate appearances in the witness stand yesterday, Hughes charged and Brewster denied that the Maine senator once offered "in so many words" to call off the investigation.

Ferguson for the plane company, Brewster agreed to a merger of Trans-World Airlines with Pan-American Airways.

After Hughes' outburst, Brewster waived any right to cross-examine the plane manufacturer. Procedure Argument Short.

"As far as I am concerned, I am willing to let the matter rest with the subcommittee," the senator said.

Hughes and Ferguson argued for about five minutes over the course the hearing should take. Hughes contended that he could not submit all his questions, by which Brewster by the committee, in writing in advance because one question would be predicated on the answer to the preceding one.

The audience, packing the senate caucus room, applauded when Hughes demanded to know whether Ferguson would submit in advance to him (Hughes) any written questions Brewster supplied.

Audience Has Spokesman.
Banging on the table, Ferguson ordered the room cleared of spectators. A tall youth, wearing a sweater, jumped in the audience. He spoke out clearly:

"I speak for the audience." Then, on its behalf, he promised that those attending the hearing would remain quiet.

"We want to hear this as American citizens," he declared.

The young man said he was Leonard Small of Brooklyn, N. Y., a student at George Washington University here.

Written Questions Asked.
Then Ferguson said he was relying on Small's promise the audience would remain quiet and recalled his instructions for police to clear the room.

Ferguson last night had asked both Brewster and Hughes to submit their questions in writing this morning and had called a subcommittee meeting prior to the hearing to consider them.

No questions from either party were submitted, he said.
"When the hearings convened, Ferguson told Hughes:

"The sub-committee did meet, and I will now ask, are there any questions, on your part, Mr. Hughes?"

Hughes Denied Statement.
"Senator Brewster—excuse me, Senator Ferguson," Hughes said, "may I make a brief statement?"

"No," Ferguson shot back. "Do you have any questions in writing which you desire the sub-committee to ask Senator Brewster?"

Hughes said he would submit some, and he started to ask "Will it be understood I can follow with more questions as we agreed last night x x x?"

"There will be no agreement," Ferguson interrupted.

Hughes finally turned over to Ferguson a sheet of what he called "preliminary questions and by no means all."

Brewster on Stand.
Ferguson called for Brewster to take the stand, but before the senator could get there Hughes broke in to say that if the committee was going to "deny me the right of cross examination," he wanted to offer additional questions.

He announced yesterday he would ask "200 or 300" questions. Ferguson said that if Hughes had any other questions he should "submit them now."

Hughes sent another sheet of questions to Ferguson, and the Michigan senator asked: "Is that all of them?"

Hughes replied in the negative and again demanded "How can anyone cross-examine if he is not allowed to predetermine the question on the answer to another?"

Privileges Promised.
He then asked to make a brief statement, and before Ferguson could stop him Hughes declared that yesterday Ferguson had promised him the same privileges that Brewster would have.

In view of this, Hughes continued, would Ferguson turn over to him (Hughes) in advance the questions the committee intended to put to him (Hughes)?

The audience broke into loud applause and it was at this point that Ferguson declared the matter cleared, then changed his mind.

Ferguson announced the subcommittee had decided to ask "in the form in which they were submitted" with two exceptions. These questions would be asked, he added, but in slightly revised form.

Brewster Makes Statement.
Brewster then asked to make a statement.

"I simply want to make clear, after reading the fulminations in the press from Hollywood over the past several weeks, that I was somewhat surprised at the limited character of the charges made here under oath by Mr. Hughes."

(Hughes issued a series of statements making charges against Brewster and asking that the justice department investigate as to what relations there were between the Maine senator and the Pan-American Airways.)

Brewster also noted that he has written Attorney General Clark, asking him to make "a full and complete investigation."

"Community Airline." Pushed.
Ferguson then read Hughes' first question:

"Is it not true you have repeatedly been one of the principal sponsors of the Community Airline bill?"

This is a measure now pending in congress. Brewster is a co-sponsor of it. The legislation would require consolidation of all overseas air traffic by U. S. companies in one firm, giving Pan-American—the first in the overseas field—the largest bloc of stock in the new firm.

Brewster replied that "the answer to that is obvious."

Ferguson: "The next question is 'You were active and vigorous in efforts to have this bill passed in congress, is that not so?'"

Brewster replied that "whatever I take hold of I try to do the best I can," adding that he has been interested in aviation for 25 years.

The examination went on: Q. "Is it not true that if this bill were passed, the stockholders of Pan-American would end up in control of the single airline x x x and that this would result in a monopoly?"

A. "It is absolutely not true," Brewster said the bill provides that a certain percentage of the stock of any community airline would be offered to railroads, to shipbuilders, domestic airlines and to the overseas facilities of the airlines which would be taken over."

Q. "Is it not true that you (Brewster) are a personal friend of Juan Trippe, president of the American Airways?"

A. "I have known Mr. Trippe for many years, but I wouldn't say it represents any degree of intimacy."

Familiar With "Palace"
Ferguson then asked for Hughes whether Brewster was familiar with the residence at 2017 Fifth St., in Washington.

Brewster—Yes, I am.
He added that it is a residence maintained by Pan American for company executives.

Ferguson: What would you call this place? Could it be termed the Pan American Public Relations Center or the Pan American Palace?

Brewster: I'd like to have the committee see it. There is a toilet on the first floor that is more comfortable and of order than any I've ever seen. There is nothing palatial about it. I have here some photographs of TWA's palace and swimming pool. It is palatial.

Photographs Exhibited
(Brewster then exhibited some photographs of the TWA headquarters in California and Ferguson made them part of the official record. Hughes controls TWA Airline).

In response to Hughes' questions, Brewster acknowledged that he had spent two Thanksgiving vacations of about a week's duration, each at a Florida cottage, owned by Sam Pryor, former Republican National Vice Chairman and a Vice President of Pan American.

He said Mrs. Brewster accompanied him on both occasions, that Pryor himself was not there either time, that he had hired his own cook for the vacation and purchased his own groceries—even the Thanksgiving turkey.

Other Hughes' questions followed:
Q. "Have you ever accepted free transportation in the special private airliner of Pan American?"

A. "I have."

Q. "To Raleigh, N. C.?"

A. "I did."

To additional questions, he said that he had made the trip to confer with Senator Bailey of North Carolina (now dead) at Bailey's request, about the community air bill. Both were members of the senate commerce subcommittee studying the legislation.

In advance of his return to Capitol Hill the California plane builder and movie maker labeled the senator's denial "pretty weak."

He added in a radio broadcast last night that "just about everyone in the aviation industry recognizes that Brewster is lying" in saying that he never heard of the proposed merger of Pan-American Airways and Trans-World Airline before a talk with Hughes six months ago.

During his 30-minute appearance as a witness yesterday Hughes charged that "in so many words" the Maine senator had proposed at a hotel luncheon here last February, that the inquiry need go no further "if I agreed to merge the TWA Airline with Pan-American and agreed to go along with the bill for a single overseas airline."

Brewster Denies Connection.
Hughes controls TWA. Brewster denied any connection with Pan-American.

Hughes said his aides found they couldn't "make an equitable transaction" with Juan Trippe, head of Pan-American, and he ordered them "to drop the matter there, at least for the time being."

Then, he said, Francis Flannagan, assistant committee counsel, arrived in California and began "acting very tough" about going into the Hughes' company record.

Timing Cited By Hughes.
"It was apparent to me from the timing it was the application of screws x x x after my failure to accede to the wishes of Mr. Trippe," Hughes testified.

Quickly taking the stand to reply under oath, Brewster denied that he ever had promised or acted to stall the committee's investigation, declaring that instead, he had determined to go through with it regardless of any personal consequences.

"The matter what may be the personal results so far as I am concerned, I cannot be intimidated by a campaign of this character."

"Let Chips Fall."
"Let the chips fall where they may," he added.

Hughes' "chips," in the form of written questions, were ordered submitted to the full committee

PROCEDURE FOR VETS PLANNING TO ENTER COLLEGE THIS FALL

The Veterans' Administration is urging all veterans who plan to go to Navarro Junior College this fall, and who want to start drawing their subsistence checks on time to get the necessary papers filled out immediately. Gaston T. Gooch, college registrar, has announced.

One of two procedures should be followed. If the veteran has been in Navarro Junior college and has been out for the summer, he should go to the registrar and fill out the necessary papers.

If the veteran has not yet been to the college he should secure a Certificate of Eligibility and then go to the registrar. If he has been in school elsewhere or on "on the job" training, must present a "Supplemental Certificate of Eligibility." These may be obtained at the Veterans Administration contact office in the State National Bank building here.

Immediate attention to these details will mean a difference of from three to six weeks in the veteran drawing his subsistence allowance check. Further information may be obtained by contacting Gooch at Navarro Junior College, or through post office box 1170.

Additional Housing Facilities For Vets

Construction of additional housing facilities for veterans attending Navarro Junior College will begin about August 15, Ray Waller, president, said Tuesday after returning from Fort Worth where he consulted with FEHA authorities Monday.

Four 20x100 buildings will be built at the college. They will be divided into ten single rooms with facilities for four veterans to each room, and into five apartments for married veterans.

The materials will be brought from Fort Worth in the near future, and construction details will be worked out at a meeting of the board of regents later this week, Waller said.

MORE BODIES MAY BE IN WRECKAGE OF TWO TRUCKS IN COLLISION

WAXAHACHIE, Aug. 5.—(AP)—Either 21 or 22 persons died in a two-truck collision near here today.

Nineteen bodies were recovered earlier, and late this afternoon fragments of either two or three more were taken from the twisted, smoldering wreckage. Officials said that because of the condition of the bodies, they could not determine how many had been trapped.

Four others are in local hospitals, their conditions termed critical.

Eighteen of the dead were reported to be negro construction workers on their way to Dallas.

One White Man
An unidentified white man was the driver of a gasoline truck involved in the crash, worst 1947 traffic accident in Texas.

The accident occurred at 6:15 a. m. on a slight curve north of here. The highway is the main artery between Waco and Dallas. Flames from the trucks forced officials to close the highway, and detour traffic.

Cause of the collision has not been determined.

W. C. Brickwell, Waxahachie, who lives 100 yards from the scene said:

"Both Trucks Burn
I heard a loud crash about 6:15 a. m. Then there was a loud rumbling like thunder. I ran out to see the two trucks already blazing.

"The impact of collision threw the body of one negro 55 yards toward my house.

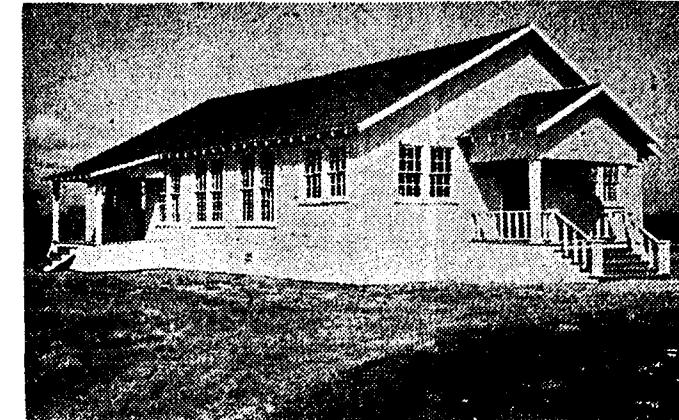

"The tank truck was full with gasoline. I saw it running out like water."

Brickwell telephoned for help. Ambulances from both Ennis and Waxahachie made numerous runs to the crash scene, first taking bodies to mortuaries, later to the scene to aid Ellis county officers. Highway patrolmen converged there.

The Red Cross began calling for embalmers. Dallas police and sheriff's deputies were sent to the scene to aid Ellis county officers. Highway patrolmen converged there.

Deputy Sheriff Willis Cox of Ellis county described the scene as "terrible."

POWELL BAPTIST CHURCH—Formal opening of the Powell Baptist church will be held Sunday with all day services and dinner on the grounds. The public is invited to attend.

POWELL BAPTIST CHURCH WILL BE FORMALLY DEDICATED SUNDAY WITH SPECIAL ALL DAY SERVICE

The Powell Baptist church will observe the formal opening of its new church building Sunday, it was announced today.

The program for the day will include Sunday school at 10 a. m. and morning worship service at 11 a. m. Rev. Louie O. Sluder, pastor, will preach at the regular morning hour. Dinner will be served on the grounds. The people of the Powell community are requested to bring well-filled lunch baskets.

Special services will be held at 2 p. m. Rev. R. J. Fletcher will be the principal speaker. Rev. Durwood Geddie, Baptist Association missionary, and Dr. Elmer R. Page, pastor of the First Baptist church of Kerens, will also appear on the program. Special music will be featured with D. D. Murray, director of religious education of the First Baptist church in Corsicana, as soloist.

Evening Service.

The regular Training Union and evening worship service will be held, beginning at 7:45 o'clock. Rev. Sluder will be heard again in the evening.

The Baptists of the Powell community, which are affiliated with the Southern Baptist Convention, organized themselves into a church under the leadership of Rev. Fletcher in 1936. Having no building in which to worship, they were invited by the Powell Methodist church to use the Methodist building in the community on the Sundays which were not being used for Methodist services. The arrangement has prevailed with harmony and fellowship of the two churches since then, and both the Saxon-Boze-Mitchell Funeral Home, said at least two bodies still were under one of the trucks.

Officers finally shot bullet holes in the tank to cause it to burn out. Flames continued for about six hours, hindering rescue work and traffic.

Bodies Burned to Crisp
Identification was made doubly difficult because many of the bodies were burned to a crisp, officials said.

Five of the dead, all Waxahachie negroes, were tentatively identified as Jack Montgomery, Herman Frazier, J. B. York, Cordell Grigsby, and Leon Turner.

Three of the critically injured, at the People's Hospital here, were Foncell Brewer, Sam B. Williams and Johnny B. Simpson.

All available ambulances were called into action. Long distance lines were swamped.

Situation Still Confused
Floyd Casebolt, editor of the Waxahachie Light, said the situation six hours after the accident still was confused. He said it was the worst accident in local history.

Difficulty in identifying the white driver of the truck was blamed on the fact that the company had several trucks on the run, and was not certain which had figured in the collision.

The truck is believed to belong to the Transport Co., of Texas. Vernon Sears, dispatcher in the company's Fort Worth office, said he believed the driver was Marvin L. Walls, 33, of Iowa Park. This was not definite.

The company does contract hauling, and was moving 4,055 gallons of motor gasoline from

Gelene Reed Weds Zack Stockton In Kerens Ceremony

KERENS, Aug. 7.—(Spl.)—The First Methodist church was the scene Sunday evening, Aug. 3, of the marriage of Miss Gelene Reed, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willie Reed, to Zack Stockton, son of Mrs. Fannie Stockton and the late P. N. Stockton.

The pastor, the Rev. Raymond Burton, performed the double ring ceremony. Pre-nuptial music included "At Dawning" sung by Miss Dianne Coates, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. J. B. Coates, who also played "I Love You Truly" and the traditional wedding marches for the procession and recessional.

The marriage vows were read before an altar which was banked with floor baskets of white gladioli, sters and palms.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a green gabardine suit, with brown accessories. Her corsage was a single orchid.

Mrs. Nathan Boyd of Palestine attended her sister as maid of honor. She wore a green gabardine, bolero suit with pink split carnation corsage and navy accessories.

Joe Edwin Wilson served the bridegroom as best man.

Following an informal reception at the home of the bridegroom's mother, the couple left for wedding trip to Colorado. Upon their return they will be at home on Bazette Road.

It's Power That Counts

The whole success of your farming operation depends upon the power your tractor delivers on your farm. It's performance on the job . . . in the owner's field . . . that counts. There is where the "WC" and its Allis-Chalmers engine have become famous.

This tractor has FULL two-plow power. It has the reserve, the ability to hang on and pull two 14-inch bottoms in tough moldboard plowing or listing—or three 24-inch discs in rugged disc plowing. With the "WC" you will never have to be content with a halfway job when the going is hard—with plow, disc harrow or bedder.

And here is a NEW kind of two-plow power—power with load-measured fuel consumption. The smaller the load, the LESS gasoline it uses. The "WC" has proved on thousands of farms that its unusual power brings the thrift of a smaller tractor without sacrificing full two-plow power. It will do the light job for less—yet it's there with that vital reserve of hard-hitting pull when you need it most.
